Earlham College

Richmond, Indiana

Editor: Judd Horwitz

Earlham describes itself as a community. It is a community of people who have come together to interact with one another. Although Earlham does have a defined purpose, this purpose is not always readily apparent. Interaction can occur in different ways depending on how one wants to do it. The relationship between a professor and a student is not always an academic one. Students relate to one another in various ways, from academic to romantic.

The college provides numerous opportunities and, as a community, it demands that individuals assume new and sometimes unfamiliar roles. In these new roles, one learns to communicate with one another in new, different and often frustrating ways.

But Earlham's reason for existence is an academic one. Students come to the Earlham community to learn in a structured format. Some have argued that Earlham should only be an academic community, but the majority has rejected this notion. As an academic community, the community acquires and exchanges bits of information and knowledge. How to measure what a student has learned has not been answered satisfactorily. Earlham still has a grading system; one which it has had for some time. Some call "High Pass" an "A"; some do not call it anything; while for others there is no difference between the two. That most of one's learning is outside the formal structure is no accident.

Is

aes

While a community demands interaction, the desire to be alone is never lost. To interact requires that one can also be alone and not interact. An outgrowth of Earlham is personal definition. The search does not have to be limited to anyone group or individual. Many in this community are in search of something. Some know what they seek, but not how to get it; others do not know what they are seeking. Defining one's reason for being is more than just finding a good job; it is also why one exists. If the community knows why it exists, it has not always helped its constituents to reason why they exist and what they must do. If the community does know why it exists, it has not always tolerated those who differ or who pursue their goals differently.

aes

For Earlham, communicating with the larger world is sometimes easy. To the outside world, Earlham appears as an united community. Perhaps unintentionally, Earlham desires to appear unified to the rest of the world. Interacting with the outside—with “reality”—can be done in different ways. Political campaigns, visible demonstrations or violence are some of the means Earlham uses to distinguish itself from its immediate environ, Richmond. The Earlham concern for far-away places has led to indifference about Richmond. Moreover, Richmond is often suspicious of involment by Earlhamites in town affairs.

Is

Iga

If the Earlham community can communicate with the outside, it cannot always do so with itself. Communication is essential for a community, especially an academic one. Earlham is a community on some issues, but not on others. It is a community when appraising students' lives, but not when evaluating faculty or administrators. It is a community when it decides where students can live, but it does not consider where faculty or administrators live. The framework of students' lives—the buildings in which they live—can be altered without their being consulted. A true community professing consensus would have all of its members voice opinions equally. The profession of consensus is followed when convenient and is often absurd.

Basically when we speak of Nationalism we mean simply the knowledge that we are African people who must act in the total interest of all Africans, despite our slavery or colonization by Europeans or dispersal throughout the countries of the world. Pan-Africanism IS, THUS, THE GLOBAL EXPRESSION OF Black Nationalism. We believe our destiny as free people can only be realized as politically, economically and socially self-determining people conscious of the fact that what we will have brought to power is what Nkrumah and Sekou Toure have called "The African Personality," i.e., African culture. By culture we mean simply our way of life, AS A FREE PEOPLE.

Went to a meeting the other day.
the purpose was to talk about our children
those innocent beings we treat so bad.
4/thousand strong we came from the little towns of the rural south to the ghettos of old Chicago
we talked and talked and talked about solutions
but not about the problems that needed solving
The children we talked about were still getting the education
we sought to cure.
were still being mistreated
a problem we needed to solved

the 4/thousand went home much like we had come problems unsolved
answers unused
the children meet tomorrow to take care of things.

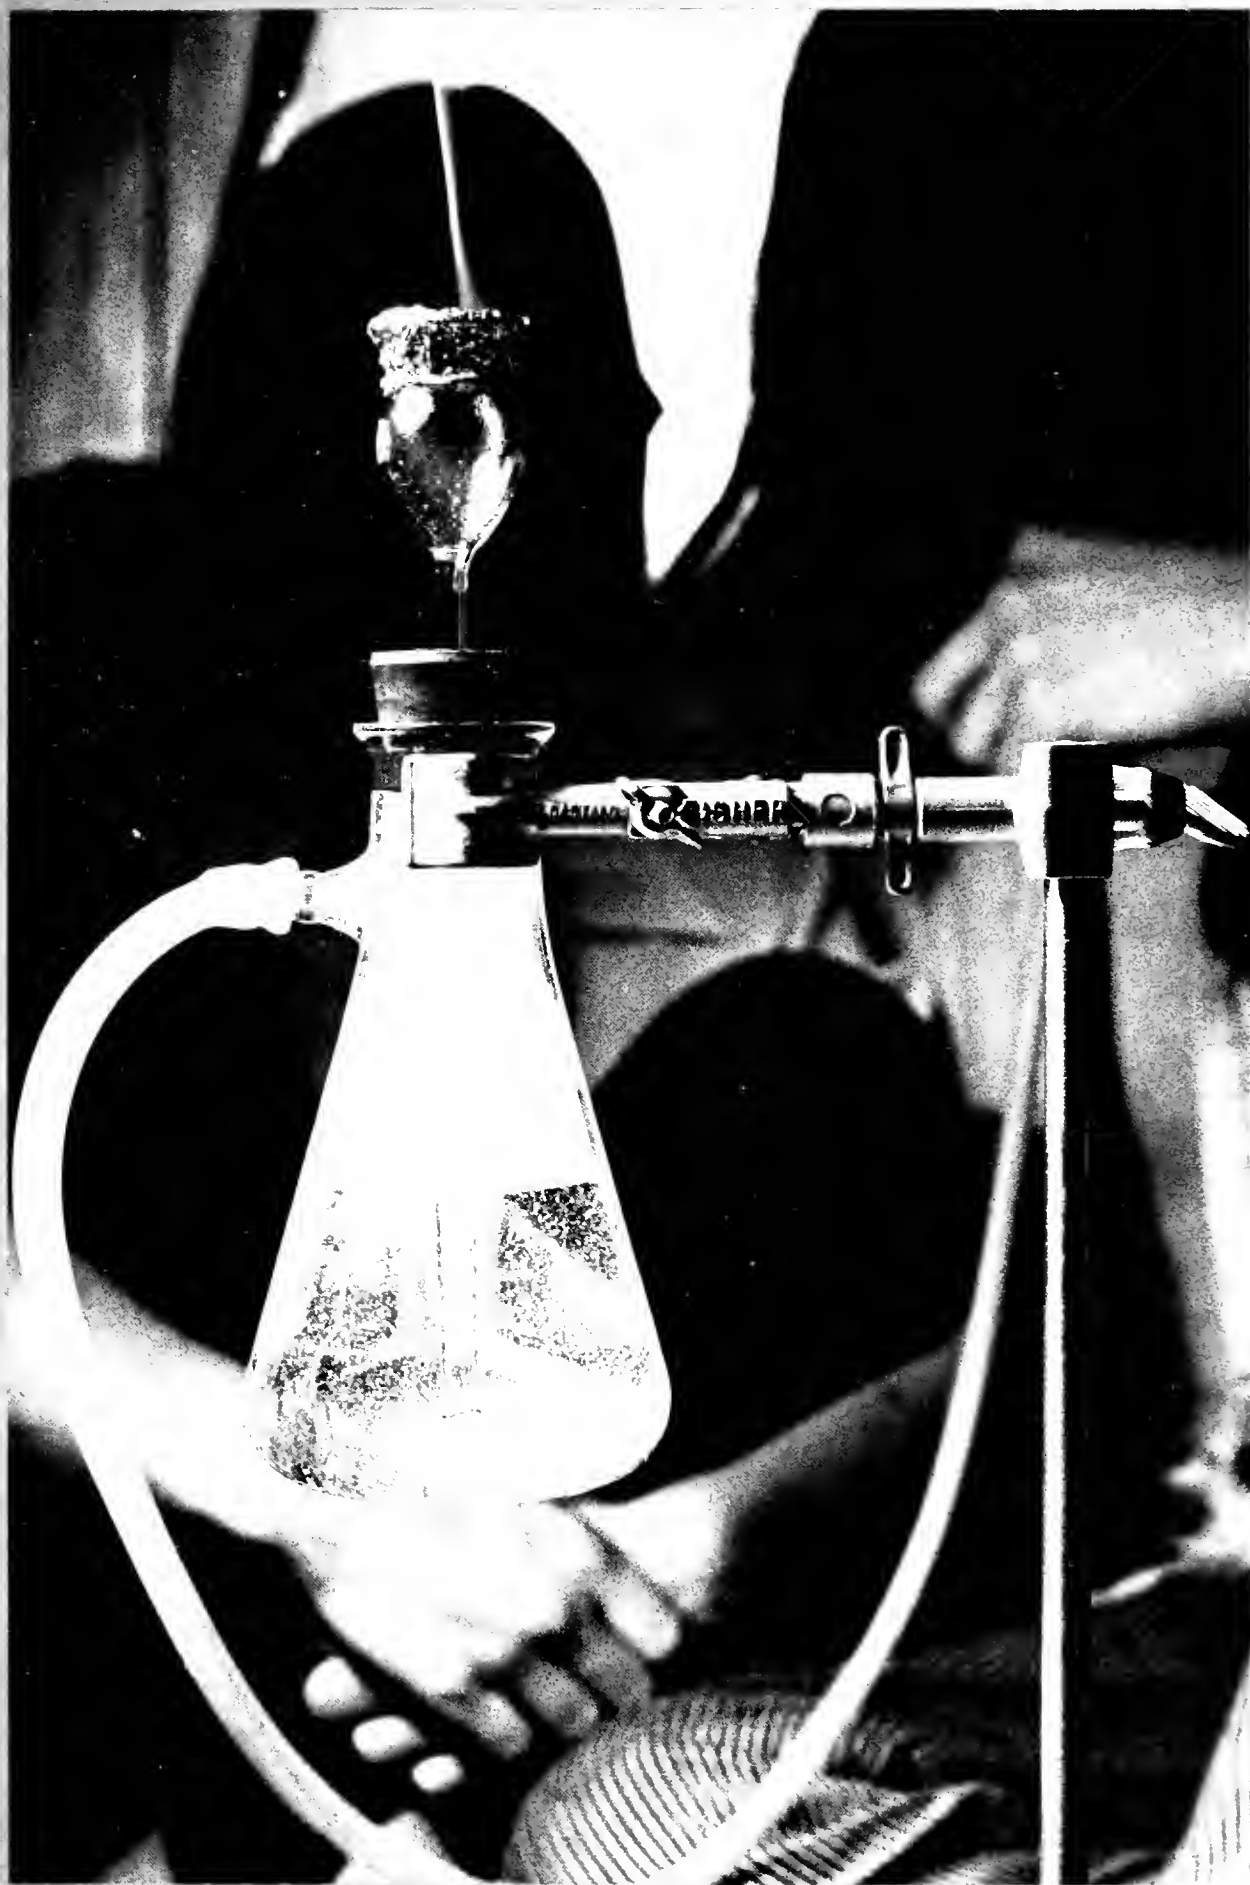

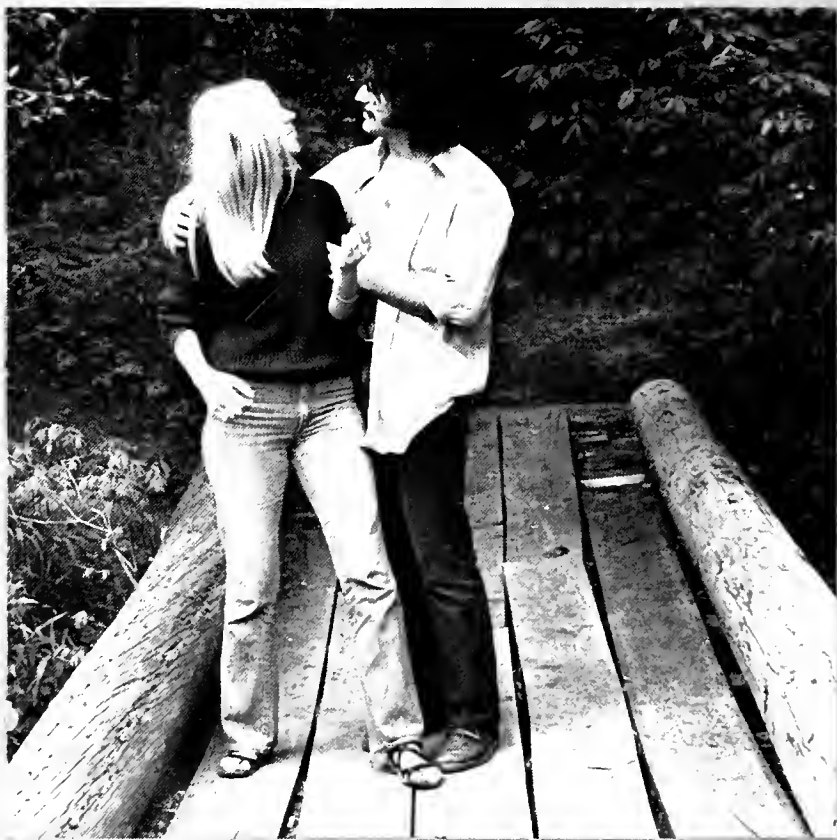

Earlham has three big problems—sex, alcohol and drugs. If you take the first letter from each, you get SAD. Change alcohol to liquor and the order to make LSD. Earlham has talked about these subjects for some time and probably will for some time. Task forces, student assemblies . . . direction must be somewhere so we can all reaffirm life.

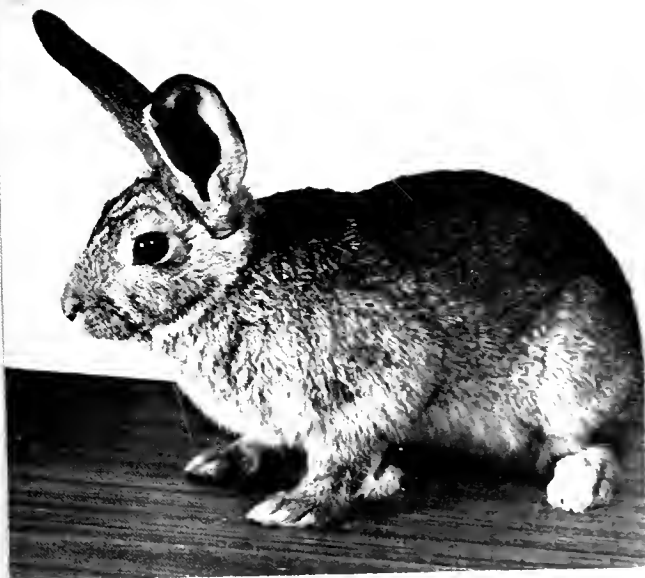

Drugs are an unknown. Those who do not use them cannot comprehend them. Those who use them cannot relate their experiences. To accept the mystifying, religious, transcendental sensation of drugs is a hard pill for some to swallow. Others swallow gleefully. Drugs do raise one interesting point, students are willing to let the college serve as an arsenal and protect them from the law, be it right or wrong.

When I came to this college last September, I was looking for a communion with people which I had never had in high school. To a large extent, by adjusting to dorm life I found what I wanted.

Dormitory—a word sounding cold, sterile. Yet what it contained was dynamic. Students from diversified cities, suburbs, towns, and farms came together and created chaos, laughter, anger, understanding, . . . love.

For maybe the first time I've had to learn to both give and take; to share not only possessions, but also myself. I had to adjust to situations I found irritating, trying to sleep amid the noise of jubilation, typewriters and stereos; making sure before venturing disrobed in the hall that it was not peopled by members of the opposite sex.

Respect and value grew for other personalities, even the ones whose ideas seemed alien to mine. By living with others, day-to-day, I lost some of my fear of being vulnerable, of opening up. I listened to others, tried to give of my understanding—and so began to know myself better.

But, in the course of my next three years here, will this belonging, which now is important, become stifling? Much of my growth as a person will have to be done alone, or in the company of a few people who are particularly close to me. The dormitory, with its multiple assortment of people and ideas is essential to me now, but will it be in the future?

As a person becomes more aware of who he is, and where he wants to go in life, he often finds that the same environment which initially gave him the security and basis with which to begin his development now is a hindrance in that same development. Each individual must make his own decision on where and how he can be a complete person.

Joe Hoskins had a great love for Earlham and Richmond, serving both in many capacities. His interest in students was unending. This interest extended to their personal lives and futures. His question "When will you amount to a damn?" reflected his concern for others that they most fully use their abilities. His life was an example of making the most of one's abilities.

The Thorn

The Thorn, a mimeographed sheet containing local, college and world news, is distributed daily in the dining room and keeps people informed of "the headlines," and different political activities.

Danny Bookheim, Debbie Coddington, Katie Gregg, Judy Heller, Bonnie Pinney, Marty Reith, Mary Roberts, Marty Rotblatt, Terry Schubach, Carol Tharp.

Community Council

Community Council discussed Task Force proposals, the fund-raising campaign, a new Runyan Center policy, breaches of various college rules, housing and the 'breakdown of community spirit' this year. Members, including three administrators, three faculty members, ARS co-presidents (previously AWS and AMR presidents), the Student Confederation president and three student at-large members, were: Tony Bing, Carolyn Cates, Doug Chamberlain (term 3), Yvonne Dixon, Carolyn Edwards (Terms 1 & 2), Cam Gifford, Paul Graseck (Terms 1 & 2), Helen Hole, Arthur Little, Mike Lowry (Terms 2 & 3), Dennis Moss (Term 3), Barb Myers (Term 1), Linda Randall (Term 3), Tom Shade (Terms 1 & 2), Ann Sherer (Term 3), Mary Taylor, Andy Weiser (Terms 1 & 2).

S. A. C.

The duties of Student Activities Council are to handle all student activities fees, with final decision on yearly organization budgets and auditing of books and to handle all student elections.

Permanent members: Jim Bye, chairman; Dave Yanek, treasurer; Pete Karp, SAB chairman; Andy Stevenson, CCB chairman. Rotating members: George Neuman, Marion Jansons.

Honor Board

The duty of the Honor Board is to review all cases arising from infraction of the Academic Honor Code and to recommend appropriate action on these cases.

Members: President of the Student Confederation Linda Randall (Term 3), Didi Kovner (Terms 1 & 2); Vice-president Jim Bye, covenor; Treasurer Dave Yanek; Community Council members Yvonne Dixon, Barb Myers (Term 1), Paul Graseck (Terms 1 & 2), Mike Lowry (Terms 2 & 3), and Dennis Moss (Term 3).

Student Faculty Committee

Earlham's Task Force on Governance and Standards was formed by the June, 1970 meeting of the Board of Trustees. It consisted of four trustees, four administrators, four faculty and twelve students. Members discussed policy on the 'big 3'—drugs, sex and alcohol. Faculty and student members were: William Camp, Yvonne Dixon, Lew Frederick, Tony Goldsmith, Paul Graseck, Pete Johnson, Didi Kovner, Carl MacColl, Ruth McNairy, Marlene Shuford, John Thomas, Julie White, Ben Zwirn, Arthur Little, Don Metz, Stuart Whitcomb, Dick Wood.

Student members of other, more permanent student-faculty committees are listed here:

Academic Programs—Judy Bradtate, Karen Mori, Margaret Williamson; Admissions—Sonsee Cumbee, Gene Hambrick, Chip Scarlett, Andrew Teutsch; Archives—John Spicer; Art Objects—Mark Geiger; Athletic—Bob Brammer; Academic Mediation—Charlie Asher, Rick Coursen, Tom Staub; Board of Trustees Observers—Debby Beck, Lewis Frederick, Stu Seltzer; Bookstore—Jeff Larsen, John Sims, Eric Sinnamon; COCH—Carol Anderson, John D. Hall, Pete Karp, Rene McFarland; Education—Linda Chinsley, Andy Hodgkin, Debbie Roose, Alan Rushton; Conner Prairie Museum—Ralph Grant, Ted Jones, Helen McAllister, Dave Murchison, Dave Pye, Laura Sessions; Curriculum—Tony Goldsmith, Ron Lamb, John Powell; Educational Council—Jim Bye, Mary Patterson, Charlie Prince; Educational Policies—Charlotte Gara, Sally Buckley, Paul Nance; Furnishings and Decoration—Chris Brown, Tom McGrath; Library—George Curran, Joe Harris; Off-Campus Study—Kathy Berliner, Jim Bolenbaugh, Larry Hosack, Gwen Weaver, Bob Brammer, Carl MacColl; Provost Search—Paul Graseck, Sally Shure; Review Board—Nancy Sodano; Runyan Center—Ralph Grant, Ted Jones, Helen McAllister, Dave Murchison; Student Affairs—Diane Battista, Brad Clompus, Etta Coolidge, John Emery, Chuck Schacht, Gertrude Sloan, John Waddington; Teacher Education—Linda Chinsley, Andy Hodgkin, Debbie Roose, Alan Rushton; Teacher and Learning—Craig Fox, Nancy Griffin, Roger Wilson; Upward Bound Advisory—Yvonne Dixon, Phyllis Strominger, Terry Zachery; Work Term Program—Anne Marble, Margy Schutz.

ARS

ARS (Association of Resident Students) was formed through the efforts of this year's AMR and AWS officers. The major reasons for the merger were: 1) There is less definition between the rules which govern men and women today. 2) There is, therefore, less need for separate organizations. 3) There is an increasing need for a single organization to provide an effective all-student voice in campus governance.

Though there had been discussion of the merger all year, the final plans were made toward the end of Term II. At this time, a constitution was drawn up and approved by Community Council. First elections were held at the beginning of Term III. Those elected were:

Officers in AWS Terms 1 and 2 were: Carolyn Edwards, president; Sally Shure, vice-president; Debbie Herman, Secretary; Helga Guderly, treasurer; Laura Neece and Tricia Gill, E. H. co-presidents; Daryl Jernigan, O. A. president; Margie Schutz, Hoerner president; Becky Gibson, girls' head desk worker.

Officers in AMR terms 1 and 2 were: Tom Shade, president; John Gaisford, Barret president; Asa Janney, Bundy president; Ben Zwirn, Hoerner president; Andy Stevenson, off-campus president.

SAB

Student Activities Board (SAB) sponsors student activities, such as Weekend dances, bust-outs, outdoor ticks, big name entertainment (Jerry Jeff Walker, Luther Allison), excursions (Cincinnati Zoo, Chicago, Temptations). SAB also sponsors organizations (Bread Box, Outing Club, Horse Show) and handles big weekends (Homecoming, May Day).

Peter Karp, chairman; Debbie Beck, Eva Feldman, Judd Horwitz, Steve Latham, Lou Miller, Gordon Rappole, Doug Rood, Meredith Ross, Chuck Schacht, James Suderman, Tim Tesch, Bill Turner, Jim Woods.

Bread Box

The Bread Box, a student operated Coffee House located in Barret Basement, provides entertainment—folk music, jazz, one-act plays and poetry readings—and refreshments for students on Saturday evenings.

Stephe Marks, Manager; Sue Hovorka, head cook; Kim Autrey, treasurer; Cara McCutchan, chief bottle washer . . . and countless others who at one time or another offered their services but due to lack of time were unable to make permanent commitment.

E.F.S.

(Earlham Film Society)

Earlham Folk Dancers

Friday night folk dances have been a tradition at Earlham for a long time, but the present Earlham Folk Dancers dates from 1968 when the group was able to buy a record player and start a record collection. Since then the group has run regular weekly folk dances, taught folk dance classes, and sponsored special workshops, including one in May 1971 with Elli Duk, Balkan folk dance and folk instrument expert. Performing groups have been sent to a few folk festivals, to Richmond community service organizations and schools; the best known of these is the Earlham Country Dancers, which was organized for Big May Day in 1969 and is still going strong. Lately Earlham Folk Dancers have also been exchanging visits with folk dance groups at other Midwestern colleges. No membership list is kept—anyone who likes to folk dance is a member—but a steering committee is elected every year. The 1971 steering committee was Carol Farrington, Margaret Lechner and Leyton Jump.

The Adventurers (formerly Canoeing Club)

The Adventurers are a motley band of people interested in excursions. Activities include day trips on Saturdays down various stretches of the Whitewater, swimming, shooting rapids, two overnights down Sugar Creek and camping at Shades State Park. Next year the group also plans to do some rock climbing on the trip.

Horse Show

Earlham won the intercollegiate competition at the Earlham Horse Show held May 22, 1971. Participants in the Horse Show are as follows:

Earlham Chess Club

The Earlham Chess Club meets once a week for informal competition, attends tournaments, intercollegiate matches, and sponsored the Hoosier Open Chess Tournament, which drew players from eight states. The club, an affiliate of the United States Chess Federation and the Intercollegiate Chess League of America, won second place in the Indiana Collegiate Championship. Members are: Jerry Adams, Richard Baltaro, Eric Blossom, Walter Brown, Kim Cardin, Micheal Decker, Captain; Bruce Miller, Stanley Parzen, Frank Plumby, Wayne Rector, Micheal Seadle, Paul Shields.

Intramural Sports

Over eighty percent of the male population on campus participated in some aspect of intramural sports (soccer, volleyball, basketball, wrestling, baseball, track) in 70-71. The Sodomites (First North Hoerner), repeated this year as winners of the All Sports Trophy, which is given to the team with the most points. Members of the Sodomites were: Larry Beer, Bill Bishop, Jim Bowden, Greg Brown, Wayne Cupp, Marty Cziracky, Mark Donovan, Chuck Hadley, John O. Hall, Chris Hanes, Rick Hoffman, Paul Jones, Chris Juday, Lucky Lower, Buc McCollum, Mike McLampy, Bill Moore, Dale Painter, Bill Stevens, Jerry Watson.

F. N. W. R. O.

FNWRO at Earlham was set up to offer service and aid to mothers in the Richmond NWRO. Members babysat and also helped deliver food for Trans-op this year.

Friendship

The Friendship Program was initiated to help break down some of the walls of prejudice and misunderstanding which were polarizing Earlham's people and Richmond's people locally, and youth and "the Establishment" nationally. The goal was not to make light of political and social differences, but to put them in their true human and even personal contexts. Friendship's function was to provide the opportunity for the initiation of free-moving personal relationships between interested Earlham students and Richmond families. Following is a list of the students who made initial contacts. There are no official records of the continuation or outcome of those relationships.

Earlham-Richmond Police Program

A committee on Police Communication (CPC) was formed after Kent State in order to explore ways of opening communication between Earlham students and police officers. CPC, chaired by Chip Scarlet, in turn initiated a program with the Richmond Police Dept. that allowed Earlham students to ride with Richmond police officers during duty hours. Those who participated were:

Meetinghouse Cabinet

Meetinghouse Cabinet, an open organization, exists as a gathering of students and faculty concerned with campus religious life. Its immediate contribution is the planning and leading of the 11:00 AM All-College Meeting for Worship on Sunday mornings throughout the academic year. More importantly, however, Cabinet can function as a sounding board for religious concerns, a source of moral and social support for those who attend, and a point from which people can extend themselves creatively toward the college community.

Deputations

Members of Deputations visit neighboring Friends' Meetings to lead and participate in worship services.

Steering committee: Becky Gibson, Chris Keuchman, Mark Strohm and Tom Mullen, sponsor.
